APP was employed by OCA as project managers for the temporary infrastructure required in one of the main common areas of Sydney Olympic Park and the Olympic Look campaign throughout the east and city areas of Sydney.

APP managed design and construction and was site manager of temporary catering, merchandising, sponsor and logistical facilities in the Showground Markets at Homebush Bay for the Olympic and Paralympic Games. The facilities included:

- 22 Catering outlets
- The Olympic Merchandising Superstore
- Hordern Lawn Beer Garden
- Temporary medical centre and Police Station
- 22 temporary toilet blocks.

The project involved conversion of existing pavilions into catering and merchandising outlets for the general public.

Considerable attention to Health and Food Safety Guidelines was required in the design and construction phases in order to deliver catering facilities that were both temporary in nature and compliant with all relevant codes. A number of the facilities required conversion to alternative uses during the changeover from Olympic to Paralympics.

The Olympic Banner Program was a key element of the Olympic Look Program and was designed to create an integrated background to the Sydney 2000 Games.

As Project Manager, APP undertook a detailed survey to identify locations for the Look Programme and coordinate installation with the relevant authorities to ensure success.

APP prepared computer generated documentation including maps and schedules necessary for the complex installation process and was required to oversee delivery and installation of 4,000 banners throughout Sydney.

The banners were in place from late August to early November 2000 covering both the Olympic and Paralympic Games.

I would like to take this opportunity of acknowledging the contribution made by APP to the Olympic development programme.

All the projects with which you have been involved to date, namely:

RAS Showground
Sailing
Velodrome
Sydney Olympic Park Blue Precinct
Ryde Aquatic Leisure Centre
Beach Volley-Ball

have been carried out by a professional team that have integrated and co-operated well to meet our primary objectives of time, quality and budget, and at the same time produced innovative delivery solutions and environmental standards and initiatives, not previously achieved in Australian construction industry.

Of particular significance, was your role in achieving the delivery of the RAS Showground project, valued at $388 million that was procured in less than two and a half years from initial conception. The result was outstanding which in part can be measured by the various architectural, structural and environment awards, which are too numerous to identify here, that the project has received.

I congratulate and commend your highly skilled and professional team and request you convey my appreciation to all.
